

Hannibal Industries Steel Fabrication Building
Los Angeles, California

Client: Hanibal Industries, Inc.
Architect: Howard Parsell Company
Budget: 1.5 million
Size: 163,558 SF

With four buildings situated on more than 11 acres, this facility is the largest pallet rack manufacturer west of the Rocky Mountains. Bremco used a combination of concrete tilt up and pre-engineered metal buildings to maximize usable space at properties lines throughout the site. The existing office space was converted from a cross dock trucking terminal that Bremco had built for a previous Owner in the 1980's.
